Challenge

Wondr Diamonds, India's largest lab-grown diamond brand, had a clear mission: break into the high-end jewellery market while keeping the affordability of lab-grown diamonds at the forefront. The challenge? Gaining consumer trust and scaling their online presence in an industry dominated by tradition.

Solution

We didn't just aim for growth; we engineered it. The approach was bold, targeted, and focused on precision:

- Hiring a Dedicated Resource: Bringing in a dedicated team member to handle leads and customer inquiries created an immediate improvement in lead conversions.
- Switching to Messaging Ads: Pivoting from standard lead gen ads to Instagram and WhatsApp messaging ads slashed the cost-per-result by 30% while speeding up customer engagement.
- Refining Ad Creatives: High-quality video ads, better copy, and sharper influencer collaborations ensured the message resonated—luxury redefined, eco-friendly, and affordable.
- Strategic Customer Interaction: Implementing automated prompts via messaging made conversions smoother, reducing lag time and increasing customer satisfaction.

The Results?

Game-changing.

- Revenue Growth: Over an 8-month period, some campaigns saw revenue grow by 53x. Even the lowest performing campaigns still achieved 3x revenue growth. Across the board, Wondr Diamonds exceeded expectations.
- Customer Engagement: Through optimised ad creatives and influencer outreach, engagement skyrocketed, with customer interactions becoming faster and more efficient.
- Sales Conversions: By integrating CRM and automating lead management, sales calls became highly effective, eliminating wasted time and boosting the quality of leads.

The Revenue Revolution

Wondr Diamonds didn't just grow—they transformed. From reducing lead costs by 30% to multiplying revenue by as much as 60 times, the strategy turned lab-grown diamonds into a mainstream, desirable choice.
